A turbo-generator produces electric power through a gas turbine and a generator. Part of the electric power is used to charge batteries. Electric motors are powered by the batteries or by a combination of batteries and turbo-generator. Electric motors drive rotors that provide the vehicle with lift.