FY 2012 highlights

Jean-Paul HERTEMAN - Chairman & CEO

FY 2012 financial highlights

Growing adjusted revenue with strong performance in Aerospace and Security

Adjusted recurring operating income at 10.8% of revenue

FCF was 38% of adjusted recurring operating income

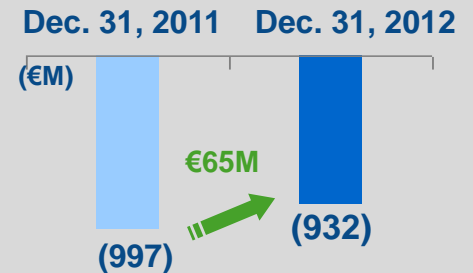

Higher adjusted net profit (group share) at €2.41 per share

Proposed 2012 dividend up 55% vs. 2011 (40% pay-out)

Reduced net debt level (15% gearing)

Further consolidating the Group

- Birth of Herakles, a world leader in rocket solid propulsion
- Creation of pivotal JVs in optronics (with Thales) and critical on-board electronics hardware and software (with MTU)
- Acquisition of Goodrich Electrical Power Systems, a key step towards More Electrical Aircraft
- Acquisition of targeted technology startups
- Acquisition of GE's residual 19% stake in Morpho Detection

Consistent strategy

Investing in technology and capacity

→ 3D woven composite fan blades for the LEAP engine

- Joint facilities with Albany in Rochester (US) and in Commercy (France) to start operations in 2015

→ Safran Composites R&T centre

- New R&T site in Le Bouchet (France) adjacent to Herakles R&T centre

→ Modernisation of industrial assets

- Bidos: milling of large size Titanium landing gear components, new green surface treatment processes
- Montluçon (Coriolis): new production facility for inertial navigation systems

→ Carbon brakes (from a 5,000 aircraft fleet in 2010 toward 10,000 in 2020)

- Increasing capacity in Walton (US) by 2014
- Adding capacity by 2015 with a new facility in Asia

→ Mutualisation of all support functions

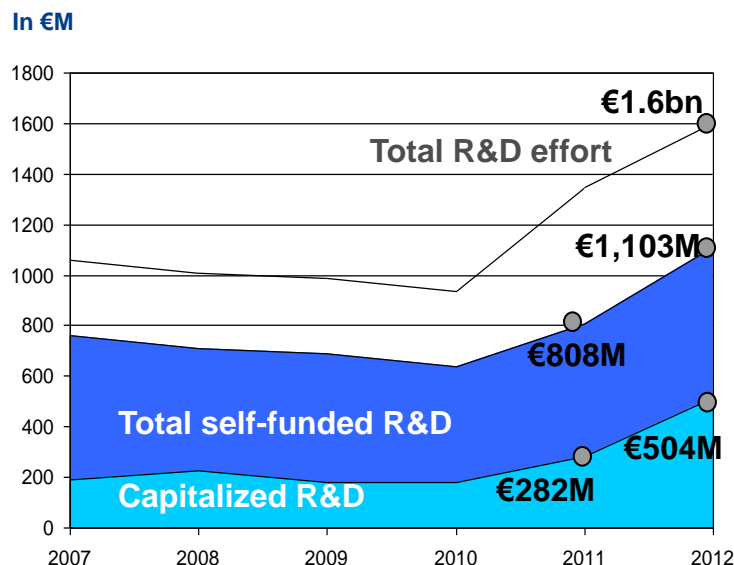

- Grouping of all Shared Service Centres in Issy-les-Moulineaux (France)

Tangible capex of €419M in 2012 (to rise in 2013); adjusting to higher production rates and new technologies

Investing in our future

- 2012 total R&D effort of €1.6bn
- Self-financed R&D of €1.1bn (8.1% of sales)
 - Acceleration of LEAP milestones
 - Development of 2nd Silvercrest application
- Split of programs reflects upcoming opportunities
 - c.30%: LEAP (3 applications) and Silvercrest (2 applications)
 - c.40%: A350, helicopter next gen turbines, flight control, infrared matrix, biometric ID engines...
 - c.30%: R&T in preparation of the future (mostly next gen engines and electrical technologies)
- Self-financed R&D to rise again in 2013
 - Peak investment for LEAP and Silvercrest engines preparing FETT and certification
- HR integration and training are critical

Long term amortization of capitalized R&D remains sustainable at less than 1% of sales

Main R&D increase from 2 engines development

→ LEAP engine

- Development on track, on schedule, on cost (First engine to test (FETT) expected in H2 2013)
- Over 4,500 orders and commitments to date (1,096 in 2012, of which half for Boeing 737 MAX)

→ Silvercrest engine

- FETT in November 2012; flight tests in 2014
- Selected by 2nd customer (Cessna's Citation Longitude)

Positive trends in Civil aftermarket

→ Civil aftermarket up 9.4% - as anticipated

- Driven by first overhaul of recent CFM56 engines
- Better understanding of new airline behaviour, adapting to increased competition on MRO

→ New “Behaviour model” for CFM56 spares activity now operational

- Complements the traditional “Technical model”
- 515 airlines categorized into 10 segments
- Includes the influence of macro economic data on airlines spending
- Includes the growing impact of Long Term Service Agreements
- Leads to better predictability (although volatility will remain) and enhanced anticipation of customer expectations
- Confirms CFM56 fleet potential for spares revenue to double over 2010-20

Civil aftermarket momentum to continue in 2013

Scoring commercial successes in Security

→ MorphoDetection: Medium-range explosives detection system

- 5-year non-exclusive contract from the U.S. TSA for up to $528M
- 5-year exclusive contract with CATSA (Canada) for $143M

→ e-ID cards and e-Passports for Chile

- 10-year PPP contract for end-to-end secure ID management and document production

→ MorphoTrust: Universal Enrolment Service (UES)

- Prime contractor for the new UES, which consolidates TSA multiple transportation security programs into a single service with convenient enrollment and registration locations

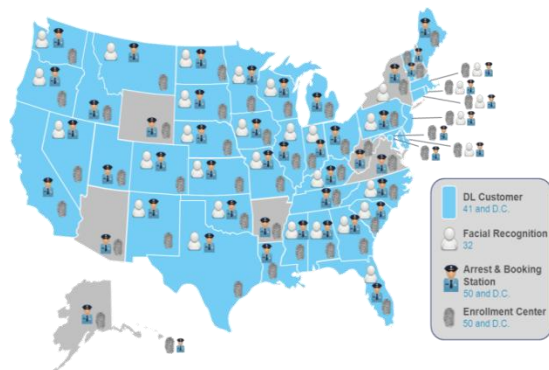

MorphoTrust USA - on target, on budget, synergies achieved

→ Maintained market leadership in the U.S.

- Driver license issuance solutions to 42 of 50 states (80% of U.S. driver licences, 60M IDs issued per year); no net losses since 2011 Safran acquisition
- Nationwide network of over 1,200 enrolment centres, serving all 50 states
- Multi-modal biometric software for the FBI, U.S. DoD & U.S. DoS based on the leading ABIS platform

→ Dept. of Motor Vehicles modernization

- 13 States are currently active in modernization
- 32 States will modernize in the next 10 years creating a $1bn market above DL/ID issuance
- 5-7 years average contract duration; single source supplier

→ Federal solutions

- FBI NGI (iris, face)
- Prime Contractor for the U.S. Passport Card program
- Prime contractor of Universal Enrolment Service (UES)
- Growth opportunities: Statewide identification of individuals, Aviation (check-in speeding) and Commercial (Trusted Transactions)

FY 2012 Results

Ross McINNES - Deputy CEO, CFO

All figures in this presentation represent Adjusted data

Safran's consolidated income statement has been adjusted for the impact of:

- purchase price allocations with respect to business combinations. Since 2005, this restatement concerns the amortization charged against intangible assets relating to aeronautical programs that were revalued at the time of the Sagem-Snecma merger. With effect from the first-half 2010 interim financial statements, the Group has decided to restate the impact of purchase price allocations for business combinations. In particular, this concerns the amortization of intangible assets recognized at the time of the acquisition, and amortized over extended periods, justified by the length of the Group's business cycles;
- the mark-to-market of foreign currency derivatives, in order to better reflect the economic substance of the Group's overall foreign currency risk hedging strategy:
 - revenue net of purchases denominated in foreign currencies is measured using the effective hedged rate, i.e., including the costs of the hedging strategy,
 - the recognition of all mark-to-market changes on non-settled hedging instruments at the closing date is neutralized.

Recurring operating income

- It excludes income and expenses which are largely unpredictable because of their unusual, infrequent and/or material nature such as impairment losses/reversals, capital gains/losses on disposals of operations and other unusual and/or material non operational items.

Fx volatility

FY 2012 revenue

- Record OEM production rates in aerospace coupled with positive trends in civil aerospace aftermarket
- Strength in the defence business (avionics) and growing momentum in security (biometric identification, e-Documents), as well as acquisitions (MorphoTrust)
- Favourable currency impact
 - Positive translation and transaction impact on $
- Changes in the scope of consolidation include:
 - 7 months of L-1 ID: €185M
 - 3 months of SME: €71M
 - 50% stake in Sofradir vs. 40%: €14M

FY 2012 recurring operating income

→ Main organic profitability drivers

- Propulsion: civil aftermarket and helicopter turbines maintenance, OEM across all product lines
- Landing systems, harnessing and power transmission
- Avionics
- MorphoTrust, e-Documents
- Safran+ productivity gains
- Currency hedging

→ Changes in the scope of consolidation include:

- 7 months of L-1 ID: €10M
- 3 months of SME: €9M

One-off items	22	1
Profit (loss) from op.	931	1,100
% of revenue	15.2%	15.7%

→ Strong revenue growth

- Strong rise in civil OEM deliveries (CFM, high thrust engines and helicopter turbines)
- Solid trends in civil aftermarket and helicopters turbines services

→ 12 months contribution of SME: €273M in revenue and €24M in recurring operating income

→ Excellent profitability mainly driven by civil aftermarket

- Aftermarket (recent CFM56, helicopter turbines maintenance)
- Impact of OEM growth in all product lines
- Productivity improvements

Aircraft Equipment

(In €M)	FY 2011	FY 2012	Change	Organic Change
Revenue	3,097	3,691	+19.2%	+12.5%

One-off items	-	(16)
Profit (loss) from op.	202	271
% of revenue	6.5%	7.3%

→ OE driven revenue growth

- Increases in OEM production rates (notably the Boeing 787, A330 and A380 programs) and regional jets market segment favourably impact the landing gear, nacelle and harnessing activities
- Market share wins in carbon brakes

→ Significant improvement in profitability

- Favourable mix/volume impact and productivity gains on harnesses and landing systems with the ramp-up of OEM volumes, notably the Boeing 787 and A350 programs.
- Increased activity in carbon brakes and auxiliary power transmission spares
- €(16)M net charge related to Hawker Beechcraft (Chapter 11 in May 2012)

(In €M)	FY 2011	FY 2012	Change	Organic Change

One-off items	(7)	-
Profit (loss) from op.	51	81
% of revenue	4.0%	6.2%

→ Mid-single digit growth in Avionics with a turnaround in profitability

- Higher deliveries of Mistral kit modules and a solid inertial navigation activity
- Combination of favourable mix/price/volume effect with lower industrialisation costs

→ Mild decrease in Optronics slightly impacting profits

- Delivery of the Felin infantry combat system to 4 regiments of the French Army (same as in 2011)
- Long-range infrared goggles down compared to a very strong 2011

(In €M)	FY 2011	FY 2012	Change	Organic Change
Revenue	1,249	1,546	+23.8%	+4.6%

One-off items	(23)	(25)
Profit (loss) from op.	116	120
% of revenue	9.3%	7.8%

- Growth in biometric ID activity, with the implementation of newly awarded contracts notably in emerging countries, as well as increasing contribution of MorphoTrust
- e-Documents: migration to high-end EMV* cards notably in Latin America, driving higher profits
- Flat in detection: renewed order with TSA for CTX devices offset by lower trace volumes
- 12 months contribution of L-1 ID: €335M in revenue and €48M in recurring EBITDA ($431M revenue and $62M recurring EBITDA)
- €(25)M one-off items, primarily for MorphoTrust integration

Outlook

Equity shareholding

As of Dec. 31, 2011

As of Dec. 31, 2012

Free float continued to increase

2012 dividend

→ A proposal for a dividend payment to parent holders of €0.96 at next AGM on May 28, 2013

- €0.31 interim dividend already paid in 2012 (€129M)
- €0.65 to be paid in 2013 (c.€270M)

→ Ex-dividend date: June 3, 2013

→ Payment date: June 6, 2013

€0.96/share dividend payment subject to shareholders approval

2013 key assumptions

- Healthy increase in aerospace OE deliveries
 - Boeing 737, A330, regional jets...
- Civil aftermarket increase in the high single digits
 - Mainly driven by recent CFM56 engines
- Incremental R&D cash effort of around €200M
 - Mainly LEAP and Silvercrest development (all capitalized)
- Increase in tangible capex of around €200M
- Continued margin improvement in Equipment
- Stable profitability in defence
- Profitable growth for the security business
- On-going Safran+ plan to enhance the cost structure and reduce overhead

Increased focus on Competitiveness, Expertise and Innovation

FY 2013 outlook

- Adjusted revenue expected to increase by around 5% at an estimated average rate of USD 1.29 to the Euro
- Adjusted recurring operating income expected to increase by a percentage in the mid-teens at a hedge rate of USD 1.29 to the Euro
- Free cash flow expected to represent about 40% of the adjusted recurring operating income taking into account the expected increase in capex and R&D to cope with rising production rates and new business opportunities

Strong confidence for the long term

- CFM franchise is assured for the next decades (aftermarket revenue and successful LEAP transition)
- Security integration is well on track
- €/€ hedged book provides positive impact on profits until at least 2016
